STUDENT ASSISTANTSHIP PROGRAM

The IES Abroad Student Assistantship Program facilitates one-year long student assistantship positions in the U.S. for highly qualified students from the Humboldt Universität zu Berlin. The student assistants are placed at approximately 30 IES Abroad consortium members schools. Placements are mostly at small, liberal arts colleges. Students work as Foreign Language Resident Assistants, Language Department Assistants, or Teaching Assistants, thereby mutually benefiting American and German students as well as the participating U.S. and German institutions.

PAST PLACEMENTS

Past placements included the following institutions: Bucknell University, Claremont McKenna College, DePauw University, Franklin and Marshall College, Gettysburg College, Grinnell College, Gustavus Adolphus College, Hope College, Illinois Wesleyan University, Occidental College, Pomona College, Scripps College, St. Catherine University, Whitman College, William Jewell College, Wofford College.

QUALIFICATIONS AND AWARD PACKAGES

Applicants may be pursuing or have recently completed the equivalent of a Bachelor's or Master's Degree. Positions may also be available for students pursuing a PhD. As their primary field of study, successful applicants study English, Pedagogy, or the Humanities and consider to pursue a career in teaching. Competitive applicants are eager to share their native culture, act as study abroad resources, and study in the U.S. In exchange for their work, student assistants will receive any of the following: a tuition waiver, room, board, insurance, and/or a stipend ($1,000-9,000 per academic year) at the U.S. institution. Positions and award packages will vary by institution; most positions include only a selection of the items listed above.
